Infrared Sunshower

- The infrared of the Sunshower provides the complete IR spectrum, just like natural sunlight does.
- The high percentage of short wave radiation (IR-A) ensures an intensive heat that penetrates deeply into the skin.
- This IR output has been specially developed and is intended to be used for brief periods, during or after showering.

INFRARED HEATS, RELAXES AND DECREASES COMPLAINTS

Infrared radiation penetrates deeply into the skin. The energy of infrared light penetrates into our body, which causes molecules to move and in this way, causes heat. This raises the body temperature, while the surroundings feel cool. In addition to a sense of well-being and relaxation, infrared radiation decreases back and neck complaints, muscle pain and rheumatic complaints and it stimulates blood circulation.

HEAT THERAPY FOR BACK AND NECK COMPLAINTS

People who have back and neck problems often experience discomfort and pain when they get up in the morning. Heat therapy is often recommended to decrease these complaints. It has been scientifically proven that therapy with infrared is effective in decreasing the feeling of cramped muscles in the back and neck. Unlike most painkillers, heat therapy has no side effects.

RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIS PATIENTS

Scientific research by Medical Spectrum Twente and Saxion University shows that use of infrared light can quickly decrease mild arthritis complaints. Less discomfort from stiff joints or muscles is experienced. This can decrease the pain.

QUICKER RECOVERY FOR ATHLETES

Infrared radiation increases blood circulation; this results in an increase of oxygen content in the blood. This will decrease muscle pain and stiffness, can heal a sports injury faster and relaxes the body. Because the muscles are more relaxed, this can decrease joint complaints. Incidentally, infrared doesn't just help with recovery after an athletic performance, it is also a good warm-up before doing sports.

DEEP CLEANING OF THE SKIN

Due to the effective heat of the infrared light, the pores widen. This results in a better and more effective deep cleaning of the skin, which makes the skin look healthier. In addition, infrared ensures that nourishing and hydrating creams are absorbed more quickly and more intensively.

HEALTHIER BLOOD CIRCULATION

Lastly, a benefit of using infrared for the entire system: faster blood circulation caused by infrared ensures that waste is removed faster and the intake of nutrients is sped up. Not just the muscles and skin benefit from these processes, but the entire body enjoys these cleansing and constructive effects of beneficial infrared.
